In order to run this code you must open the excel file up then do the following
1. Remove the second row from the file
2. Remove any graphs that maybe there
3. Save the file as a .csv file

In order to open the file in the code, be sure to change the specified file path to the file in the .r code file.